

The FTTS SEED PROGRAM

Frequently Asked Questions

Should I enroll my child in a course area of strength or an area of weakness?

The SEED Program is designed to engage children with courses that are in areas of their strength and interest. It is not designed for remedial work or areas of relative weakness.

Should my child bring a snack or lunch?

Students will be expected to have eaten prior to the classes. Please do not send them with food.

Will my child receive a report card?

Depending on the specific course the student may receive individual feedback from the instructor on specific assignments. However, no report cards are issued and no information is sent to your child's school.

What is the class size?

Class size will vary depending on the topic. However, most classes will be limited to between 10 and 20 students per class to provide an optimal learning environment. Students will be assigned to classes on a first come, first served basis. If the student's first class choice is filled, s/he will be placed in the class of second choice; when no alternatives have been noted, the parent will be notified.

Discipline Policy

The SEED Program adheres to a disciplinary policy of students taking responsibility for their own behaviors. We expect that all students will behave appropriately during class so that learning experiences can benefit all. If a student should be disruptive in a SEED class, a warning will be given to the student and to the parents on the day of the infraction. If the inappropriate behavior surfaces in a second class session, the child will be removed from the class and may be removed from the program without refund.

How do I get a refund?

After classes begin, NO refunds or exchanges will be given. If a student is withdrawn from the course by the parent/guardian, a written notice must be received 14 days prior in order to receive a refund. Classes with enrollment insufficient to support their operation will be cancelled and enrollees will be notified. If another class choice is not available, a refund of the tuition will be paid.

Can I change classes/sessions?

NO changes in classes or sessions may be made after the registration deadline.
